FOR RELEASE at will

Margaret Naumberg, lecturer in the Department of Education and consultant in Art Therapy at New York University will speak at The Cleveland Museum of Art on Friday February 26, 1960 at 8:15 p.m. Her subject is SPONTANEOUS ART AND THE UNCONSCIOUS: ITS FUNCTION IN EDUCATION AND PSYCHOTHERAPY.

Miss Naumberg graduated from Barnard College and studied at the London School of Economics and in Rome. She then did creative work in New York, Sante Fe and Woodstock. She is the founder and former director of Walden School, the first school in the United States to make use of psychoanalysis in dealing with personality problems of normal children.

Margaret Naumberg has done special research in Art Therapy and has published two books.. She has conducted seminars and covered a variety of approaches to the field of Art Therapy in a series of lectures.

In 1959 Miss Naumberg was asked by Professor Howard S. Conant to help plan a new curriculum in Art Therapy, leading to M.A., Ed.D. or Ph.D. and she now gives a number of courses in this program.

The lecture is open free to the public.
